Heinrich family celebrates 150 years of farm ownership

By David Nordby
The Brillion News

BRILLION – When Jacob Heinrich asked Amelia Schilling to marry him, she had one condition.

“I won’t raise my family in a tavern,” Schilling told him.

And with the agreement in place to leave the tavern-life behind, Schilling, who had emigrated from Prussia, Germany in 1858, married Heinrich, who had lost the use of his left arm serving in the Civil War, and went into the farming business.

The Brillion-area farm is still in existence today, recently recognized at the Wisconsin State Fair for more than 150 years of continuous family ownership.

The Heinrich family, with David center, was honored as a sesquicentennial farm at the Wisconsin State Fair. David’s great-grandparents started the farm in the Brillion area more than 150 years ago. (Submitted photo)

“She said she would work night and day, and she was the one who actually started that. They got a cow and some pigs and some chickens, and she was the one that did all the work,” David Heinrich, 77, Jacob’s great-grandson, said.

The two had eight children together, one of whom passed away at a young age. Art and Helen, David’s grandparents, became the second-generation leaders of the farm.

“My grandfather left school after third grade,” Heinrich said.

“He actually worked for some of the neighbors besides helping his mother with the farm here.”

When Art passed away, Heinrich’s dad, Reinholdt, inherited the farm with his wife, Grace. Heinrich’s childhood memories are on the farm.

“Even with my grandparents because they lived here with Mom and Dad until they both passed away,” Heinrich said.

Heinrich graduated from Brillion High School in 1965. He spent the first eight years of his education in a country school on Country Trunk K with three classmates.

“I think that one room ...

Candidate Profile

Kristin Lyerly hopes to connect with Northeast WI voters

By David Nordby
The Brillion News

Kristin Lyerly has always had passion.

So much as a teenager at Kaukauna High School that the school created an outstanding school spirit award for her after she was on the poms team, in the drama club, and was an athletic trainer for the football, basketball and baseball teams.

At the University of Minnesota, she was the Goldy Gopher mascot for the college’s football, basketball and hockey teams. The university is also where she became the first college student in her family and eventually the first doctor.

“I’ve always been the kind of person who is just living my life to the fullest and enjoying everything around me and appreciating what I’ve got, and so when I went to college as the first person in my family to go to college, that was the goal that my parents had set for me, and I loved college. It was a blast, just like high school was a blast,” Lyerly said in a recent interview with The Brillion News.

Now, Lyerly has focused her passions on more serious issues. She hopes that the 8th Congressional District of Wisconsin elects a Democrat for the first time since incumbent Steve Kagen defeated John Gard in 2008 when voters choose between her and Tony Wied, her Republican opponent, in the Nov. 5 general election.

The district of around 750,000 people, includes Brillion, Chilton and Hilbert, sprawls through Calumet County, reaches as far north as Marinette County and northeast through Door County. Since Kagen’s 2008 win, the district voted for Republicans Reid Ribble in 2010, 2012 and 2014, and Mike Gallagher in 2016, 2018, 2020 and 2022. Gallagher did not face a Democratic challenger in 2022. He beat Democrat Amanda Stuck with 64% of the vote in 2020.

Lyerly, 54, has focused on abortion, something she became ardent about during her career as an obstetrician-gynecologist. She lives in Ledgeview and is the mother of four sons – Abe, Julian, Lindsey and James. Her ...

Sudoku

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Notes

* If using homemade pie dough, I recommend you can blind-bake the crust for a crisp and flaky shell. To blind bake, roll a disk of homemade dough into a 14-inch circle, line a 9-inch deep-dish pie pan, crimp the edges and freeze the crust for 20 minutes. Line with parchment paper and fill with weights. Bake for 15 minutes at 425F. Remove parchment and weights and let cool before proceeding with the filling. Store-bought crusts like preshaped frozen pie shells or Pillsbury pie crust sheets do not need to be blind-baked.

Not all canned pumpkin is the same. Libby's is my preferred brand as it is thick with rich color and taste. Different brands may be lighter in color and more watery in their consistency. You might have to blot the pumpkin to absorb the extra liquid if you use another brand of pumpkin purée.

Canned pumpkin and homemade pumpkin puree are not created equal. Canned puree typically has more moisture than homemade puree, so keep that in mind when making recipes that call for pumpkin puree. It will also have a deeper color. Most homemade purees will be a very pale orange.

The egg should be at room temperature to ensure they incorporate into your pie filling evenly. If you forgot to take your eggs out of the fridge ahead of time, you could quickly bring them to room temperature by placing them in a large bowl and covering it with warm tap water for 5 minutes.

Instructions

If using a homemade pie crust or sheets of store-bought crust, line a 9-inch pie dish with dough and crimp edges. Chill the crust until ready to use (see notes about blind baking).

Preheat the oven to 400F.

In a large mixing bowl, whisk together the sugar, spices, and salt. Add the pumpkin, milk, and eggs, and whisk until well combined. Pour into the pie shell. (You can brush the edges of the pie crust with an egg wash, if desired.)

Bake for 15 minutes. Reduce the oven temperature to 350F. Continue baking until the filling is puffed and jiggles slightly in the center when gently shaken, about 40 minutes. Remove from the oven and let cool completely on a wire rack. If making ahead, cover and refrigerate for up to 2 days before serving.

If you use homemade pie dough, I recommend you blind-bake the crust for a crisp and flaky shell. Store-bought crusts like preshaped frozen pie shells or Pillsbury pie crust sheets do not require blind-baking.

If following my homemade pie crust Recipe, you'll make two 9-inch pie crusts worth of dough. You can tightly wrap and freeze one disc of dough for up to 3 months. Just thaw the crust in the fridge for 24 hours before using. Roll out the pie dough, fill the pie pan and crimp the edge as desired.

This recipe makes enough filling to fill a standard deep-dish (1.5-2" deep) pie. If using a shallow pan or pre-made frozen crust, you will have a bit extra, or you can fill two shallow pie crusts.

This pie also tastes incredible with my homemade whipped cream.

For the ultimate pumpkin pie filling or if you have a few more minutes to spare, do a couple of my favorite tricks to create an even richer pie filling. In a small pot, combine the pumpkin, sugar, cinnamon, ginger, nutmeg, cloves, and salt. Place over medium-low heat, and cook, frequently stirring, until hot and bubbling. Remove from the heat. Swap the evaporated milk for heavy cream and warm the cream in the microwave for about 90 seconds, just until steaming. Whisk the eggs in a medium bowl until lightly beaten, then whisk in the cream. Whisk the egg mixture into the pumpkin mixture until well combined. Pour into your frozen or blind-baked crust and bake as directed.
