The grand total for the American Red Cross is in and it's AMAZING!

$75,000 raised!

Small City. Big Heart.

$75,000 has been raised for hurricane relief efforts! Through our giveback day, large company donations, small business contributions, churches, schools, and individual donations, Brillion will be spreading love and support to those affected by Milton and Helene. Little did we know when we initiated this effort, how quickly and generously our community and surrounding areas would respond! Hidden Treasures Thrift Shoppe would like to thank everyone who opened their heart and wallet for supporting this effort. It truly is a blessing to be able to give to those in need.

And by the way, the rumor is true: Brillion IS a small city with a BIG heart!!

Horn Park history dates back 100 years

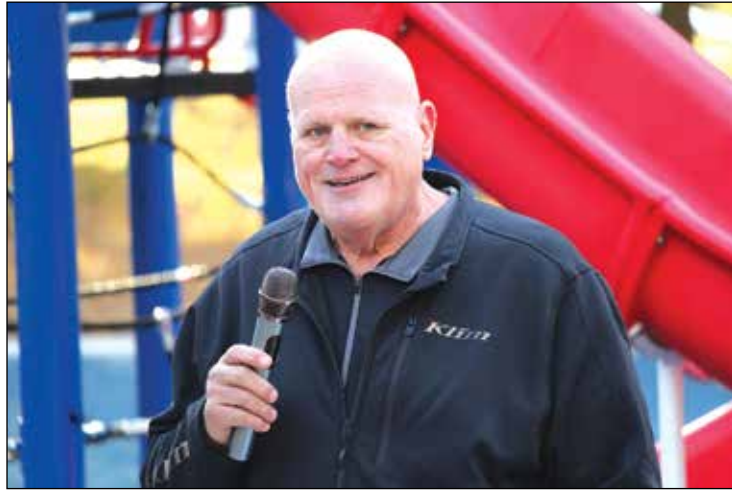

By David Nordby
The Brillion News

BRILLION – When the Brillion Area Optimist Club held an opening ceremony for the new playground equipment at Horn Park two weeks ago, citizens were standing on history.

Hank Horn, of the Horn family who the park is named after, spoke during the ribbon cutting about that prestigious history.

The park was established in 1921 by the Brillion Park Association. Years later after a failed attempt at maintaining the park, a man named Hugo Muehlbach, who held the mortgage, took it upon himself to develop the park. Muehlbach was born in Gotha, Germany.

“Hugo was born in Germany and as a young man was fascinated by what he read of America. He was determined to make America his future home,” Horn said.

Hugo had wanted to come to America when he was just

13. With an eye on Oregon and knowing his parents would never go for the idea, one night he slipped away from home and made his way to his uncle’s house, close to a seaport. His uncle persuaded Hugo to wait a few years, which he did reluctantly until he was 18. With his funds dwindling to $5, Hugo never made it to Oregon.

“In 1893 he arrived in Brillion,” Horn recanted. “It was the off-told story of an immigrant boy, who through hard work and perseverance, served a niche for himself, and succeeded in spite of all the odds.”

Hugo married Caroline Horn in 1898. Caroline was a sister to Horn’s grandfather, Henry Horn IV.

“Among some of his other business interests, Hugo and my grandfather started the Brillion Auto Company which today is better known as Horn Ford,” Horn said.

Horn said that Hugo’s desire in life was that every individual should do their part in the civic and organizational life of their home community.

“Hugo himself was a very active member of his church, the village board, the cemetery board, Brillion Fire Department and Brillion Lions Club. I guess the Optimists weren’t around yet,” Horn quipped.

Hugo wound up being on the Brillion Fire Department for more than 40 years and served as an assistant chief. When the late Charles Jensen retired as chief in 1932, Hugo filled the unexpired term.

“One of Hugo’s largest contributions to the community was the development of Horn Park. He set out to make the park a popular recreational center,” Horn said.

Hugo helped usher in many improvements to the park ...

Reedsville president will not seek another term

By David Nordby
The Brillion News

REEDSVILLE – Reedsville President Al Schreiber will not seek another term.

Schreiber, who has served since spring 2023, began informing village department heads and others this month of his decision in part to give other people enough time to file candidacy paperwork if they wish to pursue the position.

Those who wish to run for the position must submit paperwork by New Year’s Day, months ahead of next year’s spring election on April 1, 2025.

“I’m not able to devote the time I think is necessary to this role,” Schreiber told The Brillion News.

Schreiber said he wants to give his family and his business the necessary time. Prior to his term ending, Schreiber hopes to have more policies and procedures documented for the village for smoother meetings, which was a goal of his when he took over last year. The village is also rebuilding its water system, after Reedsville’s backup well went out in 2019 due to high nitrate levels.

Schreiber and the village are currently in the process of filing an extension with the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) because there is a ...

Sudoku

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
