The Trough Underground is something unique for Brillion

By David Nordby
The Brillion News

BRILLION – From the 1930s through the 1950s, citizens in Brillion went to the basement of the Carstens Mill building for their meat that was stored in lockers.

You have to wonder what that generation of Brillion residents would think if they could see the space now.

The Trough Underground has added something unique to the area, quickly becoming known for its pizzas and other foods in a speakeasy style bar. The bar opened as a complement to the wedding and event business at Carstens Mill, which is owned by Beth Wenzel.

Jess Wenzel, the manager for Carstens Mill, created the pizza recipes from scratch and the staff put their minds together to put a fun spin on naming the pizzas.

A customer can order “The Meat Locker” pizza with pepperoni, Canadian bacon, bacon crumbles and sausage, with the name an homage to the meat locker days in the basement.

“The Big CWB,” a Big Mac style pizza, is named after C.W. Behnke, the founder of the building.

Other menu items like chicken tenders, cheese curds – regular or dill – and jalapeno poppers have gotten good reviews.

“Endless foods, endless drinks. It keeps everybody full, and it keeps everybody happy,” Jess said.

Beth purchased Castens Mill on Dec. 7, 2011. The former feed mill had been vacant for just a year and was revitalized into a wedding and event space, with original floors, wood ceilings, and brick walls carefully preserved.

The space received major upgrades since it first opened as a wedding venue in 2016. Recent renovations, in addition to the opening of The Trough Underground, enhanced efficiency for weddings and have created a better experience for newlyweds. A third-floor balcony for the bride is now a key feature.

“That was a big thing. We were looking around at all the different venues in the area and we were like, what do they have that we don’t have, but ...

Parks and Rec members not happy with group’s disbandment

By David Nordby
The Brillion News

BRILLION – During Monday night’s Committee of the Whole meeting, members of the Brillion Parks and Recreation Committee voiced displeasure with the city’s decision to disband the group, and informed the city that they will not volunteer for other city committees if the abolishment remains in place.

“We don’t charge the city. You guys ask for people to come and help. We’re here to help, and what do we get? ‘You’re fired,’ and we’re just flabbergasted,” Mark Rajkovich, one Parks and Recreation Committee member, said.

Rajkovich, who spoke during citizen input, was joined by fellow committee members Wendy Behnke, Dennis Miller and Betty Nies at the podium.

“Mark speaks for all of us,” Behnke said.

Here’s a quick timeline of events:

- Brillion Mayor Mike Smith relayed at numerous public meetings this year how the city is struggling to fill seats on the city’s subcommittees, which are groups that help assist City Council. Smith cited that the committee has less responsibilities than it used to so the volunteers would be more ...

Sudoku

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
